Assisted Listening Devices available at all Showplace Cinemas and Showtime Connersville

Assistive listening devices (ALDs) can help you navigate specific communication demands. A frequency-modulated (FM) system is an ALD that makes it easier for people with hearing loss to hear what others are saying in noisy environments, like a theater, school, church, museum or other public places. This wireless system, also called a personal FM system, uses radio waves to deliver speech signals directly from the speaker's mouth to the listener's ears.

You may check out a device from the box office attendant when you arrive.
